Transition from school to university/college life is one of the most challenging events in a student's life. When new students enter an institution, they come with diverse thoughts, background and preparations. They come into a new unfamiliar environment and many of them have little knowledge of a university/college. An Important task is to welcome new students to Higher education and prepare them for their new role; before regular classes start. Therefore, the department of Applied Science and Humanities, SVKM's Institute of Technology, Dhule organized Student Induction Program (SIP-2018) on 01-08-2018, around 145 students present for the program.

Event: Microsoft Azure Bootcamp, Session on Cloud Computing

In SVKM campus, a workshop was conducted, under the guidance of Dr. Nilesh Salunke(Principal-SVKM) and Mr. Khalid Alfatmi(Head of Department) by Mr. Mustafa Saifee, a student of Department of I.T., on Microsoft Azure.

The attendees were students of Computer Engineering Department department. They were introduced to cloud computing, version control system, and working of data centers. A hands-on lab was facilitated to the students to work on Microsoft Azure and Github.

This bootcamp was conducted with the aim of making students aware of recent technologies used in the information science industry. A total of 28 enthusiastic students from the Computer department attended the event.

Microsoft Azure Access was provided to the attendees which they can freely use for learning and educational purposes.

Microsoft Azure is a cloud computing service created by Microsoft for building, testing, deploying, and managing applications and services through a global network of Microsoft-managed data centers.

GitHub is a web-based hosting service for version control using Git. It is mostly used for computer code. It offers all of the distributed version control and source code management (SCM) functionality of Git as well as adding its own features. It provides access control and several collaboration features such as bug tracking, feature requests, task management, and wikis for every project.

Cloud Computing and Version control are the heart of any organization in the world. This hands-on workshop provided a glimpse of the industrial environment to the students and what to expect in their workplace.

One page report of Guest Lecture

The guest lecture conducted by Prof. Sudesh Powar on 15th October 2018, SY B.Tech of Mechanical Engineering Department. Prof. Sudesh Powar is working as Assistant Professor, MIT AOE, Pune and having the good hold on the subject.

Computational Fluid Dynamics (CFD) is the process of mathematically predicting physical fluid flow by solving the governing equations using computational power. When an engineer is tasked with designing a new product, e.g. a winning racecar for the next race season, aerodynamics plays an important role in the overall performance of the design.

Traditionally, the only way for an engineer to optimize his/her design is to conduct physical tests on product prototypes. With the rise of computers and ever-growing computational power (thanks to Moore's law), the field of CFD has become a commonly applied tool for predicting real-world physics.

During two hours of session, some case studies are elaborated. Students are highly motivated by his guidance.
